

“I started off with small jobs but in no time I bid on a big project—and won.”

Michael Smith turned a partnership with Con Edison into growth and success for his company, his community and our city.

Michael started The Griffin Security Agency in the Bronx with just 40 employees. Today, thanks in part to the Con Edison Supplier Diversity Program, his company provides more than 500 local jobs.

We're always looking for entrepreneurs, like Michael Smith, who are ready to plug into a new network of opportunities.
