

E-Mobility Advisory Services

Letter of Authorization

Consolidated Edison Company of New York, Inc. (Con Edison) values customer (account holder) privacy and so requires customer authorization prior to Con Edison sharing account details with a third party. This Letter of Authorization (LOA) when appropriately completed and signed allows for Con Edison to share customer site information with a third party. In general, Con Edison could then share with a third party (developer, engineer, etc.) more communications relevant to a customer that could enable more effective action on behalf of the customer, including as relates to site assessments. This LOA may be rescinded at any time, and it does not separately obligate a customer to complete work.
